Sun Moon Dance

Joseph Rael, Beautiful Painted Arrow, is the visionary of the Sun Moon Dance. Although the dance was brought forth from the vision of a Native American, it is important to understand that it is not a Native American Dance.

The Sun Moon dance is open to all people of all races, religions and creeds who seek the inspiration to live a life of greater spiritual awareness and who are willing to invest the effort. This dance provides the special condition necessary for a direct experience of Spirit and of spiritual realms. Each Sun-Moon Dancer is asked to make a commitment to the dance for four years.

The four days of the Sun-Moon Dance bring many teachings. The form of the dance itself is a metaphor for prayer. Sacred dancing teaches us about the power of putting all aspects of ourselves into our prayers – physically, mentally and emotionally. The fasting observed in the dance brings us mental clarity, appreciation for food and clean water, and teaches us how strong we really are. Movement teaches us about the importance of dancing for a vision, and then dancing the vision so that it may be embodied and realized. It also teaches us that manifesting what we truly desire requires commitment, effort and surrender.

On a personal level, Sun-Moon Dancers may experience personal breakthrough and transformation, deep insights and visions, and a spiritual acceleration that lasts throughout the year.

The commitment to dance a full cycle of four dances is important as it brings about healing on mental, emotional, physical and spiritual levels. Since each of us is a microcosm of the planet, the healing we bring to ourselves also brings healing to the earth. For these reasons alone, the dance is a powerful gift that you give to yourself and to those you love.

On a planetary level, the dance works with the energy and spirits of the land. The dance arbor is the sacred Medicine Wheel, and represents the world and the life it contains and nurtures. In the dance, we work to bring in the directional energies of the east, south, west, north, up above, and down below. The web of energy created by the dancers transfers into the land, and permeates the world to bring healing. The dance releases new spiritual energy from deep within the earth to be used for peace.

Hollow Bone Sun Moon Heart Medicine Dance

The new Sun/Moon Dance Grounds is the manifestation for work in the Virginia area. Cindy & Martin Watts, the keepers of this sacred space, have gifted these grounds.

With this dance, one develops their faith, or in Far Eastern thought 'shraddha'. Shraddha literally means "that which is placed in the heart". This is all our beliefs we hold so dear and deeply that we never think to question. Our values, prejudices, and axioms color our thinking and dictate our responses. They shape our lives without us even being aware of their presence and power.

The Bible says "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." The Gita says "A person is what his shraddha is". This dance is to help us to open more to our deepest FAITH within our own Heart Center. It will prompt us to new action, condition our behaviors, determine how we see ourselves, and how we can actualize ourselves in the world around us.

Faith actually determines our destiny and as the Buddha says "All that we are is the result of what we have thought. We are made of our thoughts: we are molded by our thoughts." So as we enter the East of the Dance Arbor and dance our own "sacred space" we will understand what Meister Eckhart says "secretly Nature seeks and hunts and tries to ferret out the track in which God may be found."

I welcome all with an open heart and mind.

"The Horn of Plenty is here. As soon as we focus on a goal, the universe will take us in that direction. We are changing humanity on the planet as we participate in the community."
